WORK ACTIVELY TO INCLUDE TRANS PEOPLE, EVEN ON THE INTERNET!

YOU ARE EXCLUDING TRANS PEOPLE WHEN YOU:

- Ask private questions about the body, sexuality, or gender identity.
- Question a person's gender identity, pronoun, name, or experiences of being trans.
- Use the wrong pronoun or wrong name for the person.
- Write offensive comments about the person's appearance or gender expression.

  All of these actions can make those of us who are trans feel unsafe and insecure in being ourselves and from having an open internet, free from hatred.

YOU CAN INCLUDE TRANS PEOPLE AND BE AN ALLY IF YOU:

- Support the victim's experience if someone questions their identity
- Back the trans person up when someone uses the wrong pronoun. Correct the person who uses the wrong pronoun.
- Do not assume someone's gender
- Are you unsure about the person's pronoun or name? Write to the person in a private message and ask what pronouns they use and what their name is.
